Israel Troop Changes Are Protested

Jordan, Syria Say Massing 'Aggressive' In Tense Situation

JERUSALEM, Oct. 16 (AP)—News that Iraqi troop reinforcements are not going into Jordan calmed Israeli official quarters tonight.

But Jordan and Syria charged Israel is massing troops "with aggressive intentions" and said the situation is still tense.

Syria protested the reported Israeli troop concentrations to the ambassadors of the United States, Britain and Russia in Damascus. The lessening of tension in official Israeli quarters was not disturbed by reports that Syria is sending heavy weapons into Jordan to help defend the Jordan-Israel demarcation line.

An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman said that exchange of weapons among Arab countries does not increase their combined military strength.

Undue Concentration

"It is only if weapons are brought in from the outside or if there is an undue concentration of troops on our borders that the situation would be of serious concern," he said.

He added that so far there were no reports of unusual troop concentrations.

Despite the noticeable easing of fears in the Israeli area, however, Israel maintained a state of readiness.

The first of Israel's four key ambassadors called home for urgent consultations flew in from London. He is Eliyah Elath, envoy to Britain. Ambassadors are on their way back from Washington, Paris and Moscow.

Israel's Parliament continued the foreign policy debate launched yesterday by Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion with his statement that Israel reserves freedom of action if Iraqi troops entered Jordan.

There was a belief here he had advance word that Iraqi troops would not complete the move and therefore restrained his statement. Before he spoke there was some expectation he would call for mobilization.

Ben-Gurion's policy declaration drew general support from small party leaders. But Israel Galili, of the left-wing Labor party Achdut Avoda, said he believed war is approaching.

Expected To Reply

Ben-Gurion is expected to reply to the debaters next Monday.

A Jordan foreign Ministry spokesman at Amman first made the charge of new Israeli troop massing. In Damascus, the Syrian Foreign Minister Salah Bitar called in the Big Three ambassadors, and asked them to tell their governments Syria considered the alleged Israeli moves a new threat in the Middle East.

A Syrian spokesman said Bitar told the envoys he hoped the United States, Britain and Russia would take an attitude "which saves the Middle East from a new explosion, and makes Israel refrain from carrying out further peace-menacing adventures."

The new charges came after war threats had appeared to abate with Iraq's decision to defer sending a motorized force of about 3,000 men into Jordan, its ally.

Woman At Car Wash "Cleaned" By Auto Thief

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 16 (INS)—A woman from Elizabeth, N. J., drove up to a Newark car laundry today but was "taken to the cleaners" instead.

Mrs. Marion Speirs told police when she approached the car wash she was told by a stranger she was in the exi-lane. He offered to drive the shiny, new car to the entrance. The man, she said, entered the car—and drove off instead.

Adlai Leaves On New Tour; Gets Backing

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson leaves on a new whistle-stop tour tonight, heartened by a flood of messages endorsing his latest plea that this country take the lead in seeking to halt hydrogen bomb tests.

The Democratic presidential nominee was to board a campaign special train before midnight for a swing through Michigan tomorrow and Ohio the next day, with flying visits to Kentucky and Indiana later in the week.

Stevenson's headquarters announced two more details of his schedule in the short time remaining before Election Day:

The candidate will visit California Oct. 27, speaking at a noon rally in San Francisco and at an evening meeting in Los Angeles.

And he will be in Chicago, rather than at his Washington headquarters, to get the election returns on the night of Nov. 6. His press secretary, Clayton Fritchey, told reporters he assumed Stevenson was just following the campaign tradition and awaiting the results at his "home base."

Fritchey also made public a number of telegrams applauding Stevenson's H-bomb speech on television last night—including one from Henry de Wolfe Smythe, the former Atomic Energy Commission member who wrote the "Smythe Report," the first official publication on the atomic bomb.

"Your clear and objective statement on the desirability of stopping large H-bomb tests by international agreement is a service to the country transcending the partisanship of the current campaign," Smythe's telegram said.

Fritchey said the influx of telegrams, some 200 at Stevenson's Chicago office by midafternoon, was "very heartening" to Stevenson, who regarded the H-bomb speech as probably his most important of the campaign and devoted an unusually long time to preparing it.

Later, Fritchey made public a telegram from five nuclear physicists at the Argonne National Laboratory in Lemont, Ill., endorsing Stevenson's proposal to halt H-bomb tests.

The five are Charles M. Huddleston, Lynwood Lee, Sol Raboy, Carroll C. Trail and H. E. Stanton.

Embassy Clerk Heads For N.Y.

LONDON, Oct. 16 (AP)—A U.S. Embassy clerk expelled by Czech authorities headed for New York tonight after a security-veiled stopover in London.

Two U.S. Embassy officials met Vera Margaret Osso, Yorkville, Ohio, on her arrival from Vienna. They turned aside all questions at London Airport.

Frank Lloyd Wright Plans New Mile-High Building

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Frank Lloyd Wright unveiled a sketch of his proposed mile-high building at a news conference today, and then answered questions.

The first question was this: "Are you kidding?"

The architect tossed the query right back at the newsman.

"Are you?" he asked. "Does it look like I'm kidding?"

Wright, 87, stood in front of the other: agriculture.

Speaking in what he called "the heartland of American agriculture" and in an area where many farmers have been discontented, Eisenhower said that Republican farm policies are paying off.

"Clearly, we are over the hump," he said.

As for peace, Eisenhower said: "We all know that all these concerns of our national life that I have been discussing have true and lasting value only in the light of our tireless quest of a just and lasting peace."

"We have advanced a long way on the road toward that goal."

Wright contributed some verbal statistics: 130,000 people could work in it comfortably; 20,000 car parking spaces would be provided around the base. It would cost about 100 million dollars.

The building would have a rigid steel core, with the bottom reaching into bedrock underground, and an exterior of aluminum or stainless steel.

"There is nothing in the building that isn't scientific and practical," Wright said.

He was asked if anybody had offered to finance construction.

Wright said he didn't think any individual could swing it. No group or governmental body has Worth, (Tex.) Star-Telegram and a director of the Associated Press died today.

Dulles Insists On Right To Edit His Transcripts To Correct "Blunders"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Secretary of State Dulles insisted to changes was raised today by Chalmers M. Roberts of the Washington Post and Times Herald. Dulles responded with a tight voice and rapid fire of words which left no doubt that he was at least momentarily displeased that the subject was brought up.

He said there might be times when he blundered and he had to reserve the right to correct those blunders.

Dulles was reminded that the White House usually authorizes direct quotation of President Eisenhower's news conference statements as soon as the record can be prepared.

John M. Hightower of the Associated Press told Dulles that reporters were disturbed about the changing of a transcript because this meant in fact rewriting the record of what had happened to create an impression different from the actual fact.

Hightower made statements which linked the noted that the first news of every issue of colonialism with the Suez news conference comes from the Canal crisis and with differences reporters' own accounts of the United States has had with questions and answers, and said Britain and France over the Suez issue.

After that conference, aides disclosed that Dulles, the British and French might need to be tagged with a "colonial powers" label. Dulles said he did not question the right of reporters to use what changed several lines in the transcript so that his remarks in the as soon as his conference ended, edited record were not what he but that he did insist on the necessary.

The editing separated city of being able to correct his colonialism comments from words when later released for the Suez issue almost entirely.

Kintner Quits As ABC Head

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Robert E. Kintner quit today as president of the American Broadcasting Co., in what was termed a dispute over policies.

Kintner, 47, had held the $100,000-a-year post since Dec. 30, 1949. He was the youngest president of any network when he took the job.

While his resignation was announced amid expressions of goodwill on both sides, company officials said major differences arose over the need for building a strong organization within ABC with a depth and versatility of executive manpower."

A company spokesman said Kintner was either "unwilling or unable" to achieve this. Kintner himself spoke only of a "substantial dispute concerning policies."

Kintner's resignation came only five weeks after that of another major industry figure in a somewhat similar situation.

Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver, who fathered the "spectaculars" and other major innovations on television, resigned Sept. 7 as board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co.

Craft Sinks

Quickly No. 1 engine, on the extreme port side, began "wind-milling." He could not feather the plane continued in flight on the two heavily-taxed inboard engines. Speed fell off to 160 m.p.h. about half normal.

Should he continue on toward San Francisco and possible catastrophe, or turn back to the Pontchartrain, which he had just lumbered past?

Safety Is Uppermost

The safety of 31 persons completely overshadowed the possible worth of millions of dollars worth of equipment.

Captain Ogg turned back toward the Coast Guard ship, on its watch station designated by the code word "November."

No sooner did trouble develop than the vast network of air-sea rescue operations began to work.

Radio messages passed between the crippled plane, Cmdr. William K. Earle, commanding the Pontchartrain, the Coast Guard and Navy stations at San Francisco and Honolulu.

Pan American Clipper Flight 252, en route from Honolulu to Los Angeles, was ordered to divert to the scene. All ships within 300 miles west on radio alert, and the Navy ships Bennington, Vammen, PVT. Frank J. Petrarca and George A. Johnson changed course in that direction.

Aboard, all was prepared. Every passenger had been strapped into a life jacket, and the crafts were ready. The Pontchartrain had lifeboats over the side.

An eight-knot rudder ruffled the ocean into five-foot chops, rough, but considered fair for ditching.

Finally, at 8:14 a.m., Ogg and 1st Officer G. L. Haaker took her down. The rafts were launched from the broken plane, and as the wreckage sank beneath the sea, the Pontchartrain's boats picked up passengers and crew.

In declaring the Stevenson proposal was a "new, amended version," Dewey said:

"He has changed it five times now, and it still adds up to the same. It is still an invitation to national suicide."

"As everybody knows, the Eisenhower administration is continuously seeking genuinely safe ways to disarm the atom and turn its whole force to peaceful work."

"But for America to abandon nuclear tests without foolproof inspection on both sides would scarcely be the way to peace. It would be the way to slavery or war."

Tito Wants Heads Of Stalin Era Foes From Moscow Boss

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Tito of Yugoslavia apparently wants nothing less from Moscow than the head of Matyas Rakosi, the Stalin era boss of the Hungarian Communist party. The question arises — if Tito succeeds in having Rakosi physically liquidated, along with other leaders of the Stalin war against him, what will he give Moscow in return?

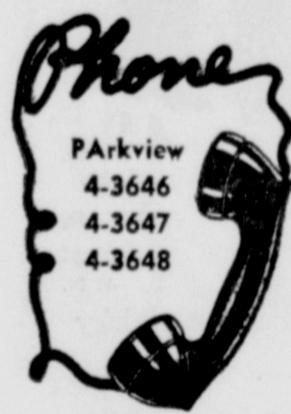

A delegation of Hungarian Communist leaders is due Monday in Belgrade for another talk with Tito. Advance notices of this event in the Yugoslav and Hungarian press indicate that if Tito has his way, the days of Rakosi are numbered.

Discussing the Hungarians' pilgrimage to Belgrade, the Budapest radio a few days ago had this to say:

"As regards Hungary, in our opinion an important part is played in the delay of direct negotiations — between the Yugoslav and Hungarian Communists — by the circumstance that during Matyas Rakosi's leadership there could be no question of personal contact. Undoubtedly, of the deceased and living leaders of the Central and East European parties, Matyas Rakosi was the most compromised in the provocative acts against Yugoslavia."

This seems to pave the way for the exit of Hungary's sometime

GOP Pushes For Apology From Leader

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Republicans have stepped up their demand that Pennsylvania's Gov. George Leader apologize for a remark he says he didn't make—that he hoped Vice President Nixon would be retired to Alcatraz.

Recently the Hungarian Communists dug up the bodies of Laszlo Rajk and other Red leaders executed for Titoism in the Rakosi reign. They reburied these leaders with honors and regrets.

Commenting on this, the Budapest broadcast indicates it was a Tito demand:

"It remains certain that together with the unfortunate martyrs . . . an era was buried in Hungary, an era branded by the personality cult — this means Stalinism—and personal tyranny as well as mad incitement against Yugoslavia. In this connection it is no doubt significant that the Hungarian-Yugoslav meeting will take place after the funeral."

Tito is likely, then, to get the head of Rakosi. What will he demand of Moscow then? The heads of those in Czechoslovakia who executed a host of Communists for Titoism? And the same in Romania, in Poland, in Bulgaria? Does the public punishment of Stalinists imply the need for the same in the Soviet Union itself?

Perhaps with a few public examples and outward assurances that there will be no more Rakosis after this one is dealt with, Tito will be satisfied. Perhaps he will offer Moscow, in return, a relaxation of his pressure for independent action by Communist parties outside of Moscow. Perhaps, even, his collaboration with Moscow will take a step forward.

Tito, the symbol of national communism, also is a symbol of international communism, a professed follower of the tenets of Leninism and world revolution.

Perhaps Tito is seeking ironclad guarantees for the future before deciding whether to resume his old position in the Communist international scheme for things to come.

Radioactive Material Traces Salmon Run

SAPPORO, Japan, Oct. 16 (AP)—Russia is using radioactive substances to trace the migrations of salmon. Sergei Tichinsky, head of the visiting Soviet fisheries mission, said the substance is fed to the fish before they are released in Soviet rivers.

Italy Tests "Open Skies"

ROME, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Italian government announced tonight it has fully tested President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan for world security — and found it works perfectly.

For five days 50 jet planes and reconnaissance machines banked and wheeled over central Italy, taking before-and-after photographs of mock military preparations.

The pilots were not told where to look for the buildup, and the experts who studied the photographs had no indication what sort of "war preparations" were being made.

"The results of the practical demonstrations prove aerial reconnaissance is an efficacious method of checking on military preparations," the Italian Defense Ministry reported.

The exercise was a completely Italian operation, with no outside help from NATO or the Western allies. But Defense Ministry informants said copies of the films and a complete record of the exercise would be available to all nations.

The "open skies" plan—under which aircraft of one nation would by agreement be allowed to fly over the territory of another to check on "warlike activity or preparations" — was first sponsored by President Eisenhower at the Geneva summit meeting in July 1955.

He asked the Russians if they would cooperate in the plan as a first step in world disarmament with ironclad controls. The Russians have rejected it so far.

Despite Leader's denials, Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said in a statement that the governor's remarks "indicated clearly he meant Alcatraz Island. Any explanations are obviously after-thoughts."

Saltonstall's statement, along with the telegrams of Smith and Hillings, were distributed by the Republican National Committee.

Atlantic Autumn Storm Ready To Pick Up Strength

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 16 (P)—The rains were expected in the area between the coast and the Appalachian Mountains. With high winds is expected to pick up more strength, the Miami Weather Bureau said today.

It has killed two persons in Florida and left several communities flooded or isolated by high waters.

The center of the storm was lying 100 miles east-southeast of Jacksonville, Fla., at 5 p.m. Winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour were battering the Atlantic Coast throughout Georgia and the Carolinas.

Squalls and gale winds were occurring offshore and heavy, spotty

Nixon To Speak At Timonium Political Rally

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16 (P)—An appearance by Vice President Nixon will highlight an old-fashioned political rally Friday at the State Fairgrounds at Timonium.

The Republicans are pulling out all the stops to make it a real down-the-party-line shindig, complete with bands and fireworks and torch carriers—and of course, plenty of speeches.

The schedule will follow this pattern:

Sen. Butler and Rep. Devereux will go to the fairgrounds after a day of campaigning in Baltimore County. Both are seeking reelection.

There they will join in a dinner under the grandstand given by 2nd District Republicans.

At 7:30 p.m., there will be a band concert and professional entertainment in front of the grandstand. And at 8 p.m., Gov. McKeldin takes over the microphone to put the night's business in order. The fireworks should start about here.

Butler and Devereux will approach the platform to address the crowd in cars driving down the homestretch of the half-mile track between rows of Young Republicans holding torches. Their remarks will be over by 8:30 p.m.

At that time, Nixon will be introduced by McKeldin. His speech will be televised from 8:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. (WMAR-TV, Baltimore).

Then more fireworks.

Nixon will drive over from Washington for the speech, then is scheduled to return to his home there later that night. It will be the last stop on his current campaign trip.

Woman Charged In Baby's Death

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 16 (P)—A Washington County woman was formally charged today with beating her 10-month-old daughter to death with an empty pop bottle.

A warrant charging murder was served on Mrs. Betty June Oaks, 29, of Leitersburg in the death of her only child, June Ione Oaks. The little girl died last night of a fractured skull in a Waynesboro, Pa., hospital.

State Police Cpl. Harold Basore said Mrs. Oaks admitted striking the child with a soft drink bottle yesterday. She told the officer that the little girl refused to eat and cried constantly, and that it got on her nerves.

Worker Is Killed

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 16 (P)—William Schumacker, 60, of Williamsport, Md., was fatally injured today when he was crushed between the cables of a crane and a wall at the Security plant of the Potomac Edison Co. near here.

College To Break Ground For New Science Building

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 16 (P)—St. John's College will break ground Saturday for a new auditorium-science building that's sure to cause some eyebrows lifting in this staid old Colonial capital.

The building, newest addition to a 250-year-old campus, will be completely modern in design and will stand in sharp contrast to older buildings at the college and in Annapolis, a city which reveres its history and traditions.

The two million dollar structure, designed by Architects R. J. Neutra and R. E. Alexander of Los Angeles, will house a memorial auditorium dedicated to Francis Scott Key, several music and fine arts rooms and laboratories for physics, chemistry and biology.

Its construction is being financed by the State of Maryland and the Old Dominion Foundation Key, author of the national anthem, was graduated from St. John's in 1796, a century after the school was established.

Bond Issue Bid Approved

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 16 (P)—The City of Hagerstown and the Washington County Board of Commissioners issued $13,800,000 worth of bonds today at an interest rate of slightly less than 3 per cent.

A syndicate composed of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago, and Goodbody & Co., New York, was the successful bidder among eight groups who sought to handle the bond issue.

The winning bid was for an average interest rate of 2.985 per cent on the city's $5,800,000 bond issue and 2.983 per cent on the county's eight million dollar issue.

City Auditor John K. Baker 3rd figured the city would pay $2,448,274 in interest rates over the 25-year period of its bond issue, and the county would pay $3,102,320 over a similar period.

The county issue will finance construction of new schools. The city issue is for improvements to the municipal power plant and to the city's water and sewer systems.

Delegates Arrive For Convention

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 16 (P)—An advance guard of 50 delegates registered today for the 36th annual national convention of the Military Order of the World Wars to be held here through Saturday.

Highlight of the five-day affair will be a reception and banquet Friday night when more than 300 persons are expected to hear an address by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chief of staff of the U. S. Army.

Lt. Col. H. Leslie Buswell of Miami Beach, Fla., the senior vice-commander, is slated to be named commander-in-chief when election are held Friday. He will succeed Vice Adm. Charles A. Pownall.

B&O Income Up

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16 (P)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's net income for September was slightly more than $3,100,000. President Howard E. Simpson announced today.

This was an increase of about $1,300,000 over the net income of the same month last year, he said.

M'Keldin Calls For Check In Auto Mishaps

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (P)—Gov.

Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland said tonight he will ask his fellow governors to join him in demanding that automobile manufacturers "discontinue distributing the lethal speed which is killing so many Americans."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the annual dinner of the Citizens Traffic Safety Board of New York City, McKeldin called for stronger laws, strict law enforcement and "motor vehicles that are built for intelligent use—not to smash either the barriers of sound or those of human control."

"Americans—particularly young Americans—are being killed individually and by the carloads," the governor said. "It is a radical circumstance that calls for radical action."

"Organized society must demand and public officials must enact and enforce radical devices to get the automobile back on the track of usefulness with safety—away from the road of human destruction down which it is plunging today," he said.

"There are many causes of accidents," he said, "and we must do what we can to eliminate each, but speed is the great killer."

McKeldin said laws—even when well enforced—obviously are not enough. "The representatives of the law cannot completely blanket each hundred yards of our rapidly growing systems of highways," he said.

The governor did not say what maximum speed he thought auto manufacturers should allow. He did say that "to the average, law-abiding motorist the value of a car is not increased by a speed capacity exceeding 60 miles an hour."

"Only for the wild asses of the macadam—the showoffs who mistake speed for a kind of ability or brand of heroism—are the higher speeds created," he said.

McKeldin said he will seek support for built-in speed reduction at the national Governors' conference next summer.

"If the manufacturers fail to recognize and act against the evil which they have created, I shall pursue the purpose of having the states enact laws to prohibit the sale of automobiles for general use with speeds in excess of a reasonable figure," he said.

Milk Producers Are Acquitted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (P)—Two big Maryland and Virginia milk producers organizations were acquitted today of charges of antitrust law violations.

The government had contended that the Maryland & Virginia Milk Producers Assn. Inc. and the Maryland Co-operative Milk Producers Inc. had conspired to fix prices.

Cab Owners Seek Increase In Rates

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16 (P)—Baltimore cab owners today asked the Public Service Commission for authority to increase taxi rates.

The petition, signed by 17 taxi groups representing the city's 1,151 cabs, asked to increase the first fare to 35 cents for the first mile, with five cents additional for each additional one-third mile.

The present rate is 35 cents for one and two-thirds mile, with five cents for each additional one-third mile.

Congressmen Obtained Free Voyages

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (P)—Three between New York and the Canal senators and 16 representatives Zone cost from $315 to $351, depending on accommodations. Similar fares to Haiti and return run aboard government-owned Panama line steamships. Also named were six congressional staff employees.

Of the 25, only four were designated as traveling alone. The rest took wives or children or both; in all 14 children were listed, as many as three for some congressmen. The wives and children paid a quarter of the regular rate.

Two of the senators were Democrats, one was a Republican. There were 10 GOP representatives and six Democratic House members.

The Panama Line, which serves the Canal Zone and Haiti with its passengers from July, 1955, to last three ships, said that in 1955 it spent $22,154 "for cost of steamship transportation furnished to members of Congress."

Normally, round trip fares bemittee attache, and wife; Rep. John J. Rhodes (R-Ariz.), wife and three children.

John T. Ridgely, congressional staff member, and wife.

Rep. Frank C. Osmers Jr. (R-N.J.), wife and son; Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-N.Y.) and son.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), wife, two children; Rep. Frank M. Clark (R-Penn.), wife, two children; Rep. Edmund P. Radwan (R-N.Y.), wife, three children; Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D-N.J.), wife, two children.

Robert E. O'Hara, senatorial staff member; Rep. Henry O. Talle (R-Iowa) and wife.

Rep. James A. Byrne (D-Pa.) and wife; Rep. Edward A. Garmatz (D-Md.) and wife; the late Rep. William T. Granahan (D-Pa.) and wife; Frances Still, congressional committee clerk; Rep. T. James Tumulty (D-N.J.) and wife; Rep. William K. Van Pelt (R-Wis.) and wife; Bernard J. Zincke, congressional staff member, and wife.

Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.) and wife; Rep. Dean P. Taylor (R-N.Y.) and wife.

Rep. A. D. Baumhart Jr. (Ohio) and wife; Rep. William E. McVey (R-Ill.) and wife.

Robert McManus, congressional committee attache.

All the trips were to the Canal Zone except Rep. Powell's. He and his son visited Haiti.

Some of the legislators were not available for comment. Some declined comment. Those commenting included:

Rep. Thomson (D-N.J.): "I paid for the passage of my wife and children. Both Sen. Case and I spent a number of hours inspecting the canal, its operations and facilities. I am very pleased they released the list. I feel the trip was extremely worthwhile in account of the millions of dollars we have in there—particularly at this time because of the canal question raised by the Suez situation."

Sen. Case (R-N.J.): "It's a privilege which from time immemorial, for many, many years, has been extended to members of the Congress and their families. I think without charge. There's nothing new or strange about it. I think a great majority of members of Congress have occasionally enjoyed the privilege. I agree with President Eisenhower, there's no reason the list shouldn't be made public. I've never known of any secrecy attached to it."

Rep. Powell (D-N.Y.): "I went down as a guest of the Haitian government to discuss with the president of Haiti our sugar quota act under which is allocated the amount of sugar we buy from each nation. I believed Haiti had got a raw deal. I was able to raise their quota."

Rep. Osmers (R-N.J.): "As a member of the House Committee on Armed Services, I inspected the canal and its defenses in detail. This inspection was of great assistance in evaluating on the spot the many problems concerning the canal and its defenses which come before Congress and my committee. As with other congressmen, I was accompanied on the trip by members of my family who paid for their trip at the rate established by law."

Rep. McVey (R-Ill.): "I wanted to observe conditions in Guatemala and Panama and took the opportunity to combine a business trip with a vacation. We rode to Panama but I paid the costs of the trip from Panama to Guat-

Piedmont Lines Protest Added Carrier Routes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (P)—Piedmont Aviation Inc., maintained today it would lose thousands of dollars annually if trunk carriers are given new routes in territory it serves.

Attorneys for the local service line presented their protest at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing on applications by nine carriers for new routes in the Great Lakes Southeast region.

Piedmont contended Eastern Delta, Capital and National Airlines are asking for routes that would mean harmful competition for Piedmont.

Piedmont now serves Cincinnati and cities in West Virginia, Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina. Another local service carrier, Allegheny Airlines, opposed new Pittsburgh-Washington and Pittsburgh-Buffalo routes to any carrier until a local service case for the Great Lakes region is settled.

mala, our expenses in both places and for the return airline trip."

Rep. Rhodes (R-Ariz.): "I've been talking about my trip back here right along. I took pictures and I've been showing them. The thing that surprises me is that it is supposed to be a secret. Whether I was free or not I haven't the slightest idea. I just paid the bill they sent me. I didn't ask them."

Rep. Byrne (D-Pa.): "I made the trip as a member of the Panama Canal subcommittee. We were sent down there by the full committee to hold hearings."

Mrs. William T. Graham, widow of Rep. Graham (D-Pa.): "It was our first vacation in 10 years. However, we paid for the trip. I still have a canceled check made out to the Panama Line."

Rep. Tumulty (D-N.J.): "I was on a junket or a cruise. I was doing my job which is to study the operation of the canal. If I hadn't taken that trip I wouldn't have found Peron." Tumulty exposed the presence of deposed Argentine dictator Juan Peron in a government-owned hotel in the Canal Zone.

Amateur Astronomers To Track Man-Made Satellite

COLESVILLE, Md., Oct. 16 (P)—Twelve amateur astronomers sat on an apple orchard near here and quietly gazed into special telescopes searching for a red balloon soaring across the sky.

Suddenly, one of them shouted, "There it is."

That cry signaled the birth of one of mankind's newest and most spectacular undertakings—the tracking of a man-made earth satellite.

At the apple orchard of R. G. Wright near here, the amateur astronomers, ten men and two women, were divided into two groups of six and seated in a straight line on opposite sides of a 35-foot pole topped with a cross bar.

Gazing into the telescopes that cover a 500 to 600 times greater amount of sky than ordinary telescopes, the observers signaled whenever the pole blocked their view of the balloon.

The balloon was used as a make-believe satellite in the first test ever made of instruments developed for tracking man-made satellites.

The tests were conducted in preparation for next year's launching by the United States of a tiny spherical satellite, about 21 inches in diameter, which will circle the earth at a distance of between 200 and 800 miles.

Mr. Wright, an amateur astronomer who works for the Weather Bureau, is chairman of the National Committee of Experienced Observers who will have the responsibility of tracking the satellite.

The activities in Mr. Wright's apple orchard opened "Operation Moonwatch," which will eventually consist of hundreds of observer posts around the world. Each observer station will have 12 of these special telescopes with which to track the 18,000-mile-an-hour satellite.

They will study the speed and orbit of the tiny globe and report their findings to the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Harvard University. Here the information will be computed and sent

McKinley Chapter OES To Observe 55th Anniversary

McKinley Chapter No. 12, Order of the Eastern Star, will celebrate the 55th anniversary of its institution Friday evening. Mrs. Dorothy Ringler is worthy matron and Charles McElfish, worthy patron.

It will begin with entertaining Mrs. Jennie Lee Bird, Baltimore, worthy grand matron; R. Edgar Bennett, city, worthy grand patron and other grand officers, at 2 o'clock in the Masonic Temple. The program, "Birds To Welcome You," will be presented by the officers of the chapter. There also will be special musical numbers by Mrs. Virginia Lee Robinette, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ethel Lawyer.

Dinner will be served at the temple following the program.

Celebration of the 55th anniversary will be with a program, entitled, "Wishing Well." It will be in the evening, and also will be presented by the officers. The musical program again will be by Mrs. Robinette and Mrs. Lawyer.

Mrs. Rebecca Arnold was organizer and first worthy matron of the chapter in 1901. Other charter members were Margaret Rizer, Fannie V. Horn, Nyna Fey, P. Rizer, Sigmund Tanzer, Peter Ada Defibaugh, Nellie P. Bloss, G. Cowden, Alexander King, Mary Martin, Laura Young, George C. Young, John C. Slembecka Brubaker, Carrie Biser, John B. JAYCEES HELP HOSPITAL — Two of the most modern pieces of equipment have been purchased by the Cumberland Jaycees and were presented to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday. The one is a new Mechanaire, the new iceless oxygen tent; the other the Croupette, the new air shields croupette and air shields-motor compressor aspirator. The Mechanaire is easy to handle and store because of its compact streamlined dimensions, it eliminates the problems of portability and storage. One of the finest oxygen tents on the market it will be used for any patient needing oxygen. The Croupette can either be used with oxygen or without oxygen and is to be for all types of broncho-pulmonary congestions and is of particular value in croup. It also is used for prompt and effective relief where tracheotomy can be avoided. It can be set up by one nurse in a matter of minutes and in a matter of seconds air inside the croupette is supersaturated with water vapor enriched with oxygen when so desired. Cool, comfortable and clear visibility, with frosted canopy it can be used for continuous therapy. Left to right are Robert A. Matheus, vice president; Edward F. Mullan Jr., project chairman; Kenneth J. Williams, president; and Sister Celeste, hospital administrator.

Musical To Be Given Sunday

Members of Cresaptown Methodist Church Choir will present a musical Sunday evening at 7:30. Every lover of music is invited to attend. The choir will wear, for the first time, the new robes purchased by the church.

Mrs. Ruth Johnson is director of the choir and Mrs. Virginia Kryna organist. Miss Judy Johnson will play the marimba.

The prelude will be organ and marimba selections by Mrs. Johnson and her daughter. Following the "Lord Is In His Holy Temple," there will be the procession by the choir and "Jesus May Come." Rev. Raymond Crowe is to extend the welcome, and make the announcements and give benediction.

Numbers by the choir will include "Jesus Is All The World To Me," "How Holy," "I'll Go Where You Want Me To Go," and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

There also will be a duet, "When He Reached Down His Hands For Me," by Martin Johnson and Judy Johnson; a solo by Vernon Higgs, an anthem by the Youth Choir with Mrs. Colleen Nelson directing; a number by the Male Quartet composed of Martin Johnson, Hayes Robbinette, James Glover and K. O. Nelson; a solo by Mrs. Elaine Crowe, congregational singing, a duet by Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Nelson and a trio composed of Mrs. Elizabeth Higgs, Mrs. Julia Wright and Judy Johnson.

W. A. Judy will give a reading, "What Is Age?"

City Officials To Inspect Sewage Plant At Altoona

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson have scheduled a trip to Altoona today to look over sewage treatment plant facilities there.

Buchholz said City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum has been invited to go along.

The city officials will look over operations of the Altoona plant, get data on operating costs, number of employees, supplies and maintenance. Their findings will be used in part to help set up operating facilities for the city's new $2,000,000 treatment plant which is being constructed at Offutt Street in South End.

Gibson said the findings will

Board Gets Letters On U.S. 40 Plan

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received copies of letters sent to three Maryland congressmen from C. D. Curtiss, Commissioner of the Bureau of Public Roads, on the U. S. Route 40 proposal.

All three Congressmen had been sent copies of a resolution by the county board in which they requested aid in having that portion of Route 40 between Hancock and Washington, Pa., included in the Federal Interstate Highway System.

Conferred With States

Curtiss reviewed the situation concerning the 40,000-mile U. S. roads system as authorized in the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1944. He said the system has already been selected. The routes were approved by the Bureau of Public Roads after consideration of recommendations by the state highway departments cooperating with departments of adjoining states relative to connections at state lines, and after consultation with the U. S. Department of Defense.

Study Time Needed

Proposals will be considered on a national basis as required by statute. The Maryland State Roads Commission has requested interstate designation for U. S. 40 from Hancock to the Maryland-Pennsylvania line. The Pennsylvania Department of Highways has not requested interstate designation for the connecting portion in Pennsylvania.

Since requests have been received for more than 11,000 miles it will take some time, Curtiss stated, to review and reach final decisions.

Curtiss said U. S. 40 between Hancock and Washington, Pa., has been otherwise recognized. It is on the Federal Aid primary highway system and hence is eligible for improvement with federal and matching funds under state control.

The letters of explanation by Curtiss have been sent to Reps. Fallon, Garmatz and Friedel.

Democrats Change Dollar Drive Plan

Instead of a one-day event, the Allegany County Democratic Central Committee will conduct its "Dollars For Democrats" drive through Wednesday, October 24.

Julius E. Schindler has been named chairman of the Allegany County campaign for funds for the November 6 campaign.

Schindler launched the "Dollars For Democrats" effort last night in a speech at a rally sponsored by the Allegany County committee in the Eagles Home.

Schindler, and Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the Allegany County Democratic committee, emphasized that all funds collected will be used in the Allegany County campaign.

The drive will be in the form of petitions which contributors will sign, Schindler added.

Schindler has appointed as his assistants Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Charles F. Davis, William F. Evans Jr., Mrs. Rose Hay, Kelly, William Kuhlman, Robin Mrs. Sylvia Mattingly, Frank Wolford, John Zapf, Mrs. Fay Kelly and Mrs. Marion Warner.

City Firemen Are Seeking Additional Vacation Time

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said Monday efforts are being made to give city firemen seven additional days' vacation a year to bring them in line with other city employees who receive seven paid holidays annually.

Keegan said firemen at present are required to work on holidays while other city employees get the day off. In addition, men work 60-hour weeks compared to 40 hours for other employees.

Representatives of the department explained the plan to the Mayor and Council Monday during its pre-meeting session. Keegan said the men will work out a schedule for the whole year and present it to him for consideration. The schedule will not go into effect until it is determined if it is workable, the commissioner added.

The move would mean instead of 15 days, a fireman would be eligible for 22 days vacation a year. The schedule would be so set up that a minimum number of men needed on duty would be at the fire station at all times. Similarly, in event of a serious emergency, it was pointed out, all firemen are on call.

Conn Company Gets New Bridge Contract

The Conn Welding and Machine Company of New Castle, Pa., was awarded the contract yesterday to build a new bridge at Flat Rock near Barton.

A low bid of $13,865.20 was submitted by the Conn firm. The only other bid was by David Goldberg and Sons of Uniontown. They offered to do the work for $14,799.

The Flat Rock bridge project consists of a 72-foot span with a grid steel deck and steel strings and supports. The Conn firm also has the Locust Grove bridge repair project.

Rev. Joseph R. Clair Is Elected Dean Of Cumberland Episcopal Convocation

Rev. Joseph R. Clair, pastor of St. Thomas' parish, Hancock, was recently elected Dean of the Episcopal Convocation of Cumberland which represents 22 Western Maryland parishes and missions.

The meeting was held in St. James' Church, Mt. Airy. Vice Dean is Rev. David C. Street, vicar of Holy Cross and St. Philip's churches here.

Rev. Leslee E. Schwindt, vicar of St. Peter's Church, Lonaconing, was named secretary while Capt. Henry L. Howard, Garrett County Diocesan Missions, was named treasurer.

Delegates to the Executive Council are Rev. Victor S. Ross Jr., vicar of St. James' Church, Mt. Airy; clerical and Clyde Roney, All Saints' Parish, Frederick, lay.

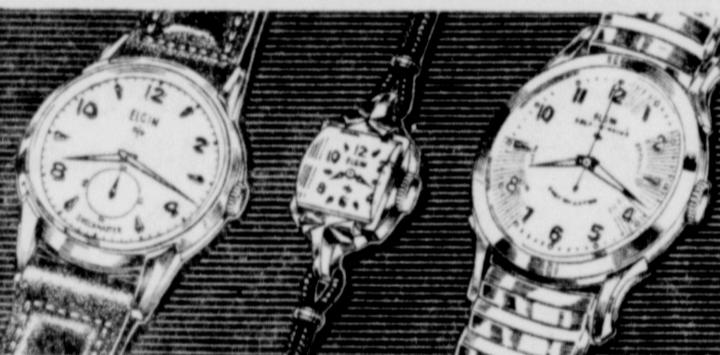

Holy Communion was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, DD, bishop of Maryland. The sermon, "The Adventures of Being A Christian," was preached by Rev. Street.

Some 120 clerical and lay representatives were present. Rt. Rev. Harry Lee Doll DD, suffragan bishop of Maryland, introduced Miss Mary P. Plummer, assistant treasurer of the diocese.

Pinto Mennonite's Musical Program Scheduled Sunday

Albert H. Lucas, DD, archdeacon of Maryland, is rector.

Retiring Dean of the Convocation is Rev. Charles I. Kratz Jr., rector of St. John's Church, Frostburg.

Pyles Changes Plea On Bigamy Charge

Charles W. Wagner was introduced by Bishop Doll. Wagner is executive secretary of the department of business administration and assistant treasurer.

He spoke of the $5 million project of diocesan expansion with $3½ million of the responsibility to be carried directly by the parishes and the remaining $1½ million to be handled by the diocese.

Also, $150,000 has been turned over to the diocese recently by four parishes for endowment funds.

Bishop Powell discussed the Church Pension Fund, the "Builders for Christ" campaign and church expansion. He closed his remarks, posing this question for all Maryland Episcopalian: "Do we need evangelistic preaching mission in each church of the diocese now?"

The spring meeting of the convocation will be held in St. John's Church, Hagerstown, where Rev.

Stadium Concession Stand Burglarized

Local authorities have cleared up a breaking and entering which occurred at the concession stand at Fort Hill Stadium.

Police Detective George Furtnerburg, who investigated with Detective Joseph Stitzer, said that a group of youngsters ranging in age from seven to 11, were questioned in the matter and it was learned they broke into the building apparently on Sunday.

Candy, potato chips and other merchandise was strewn about the interior of the building. Soft drink bottles in a cooler were smashed. Restitution will be made by the parents, police said.

They received a call Monday about 6:05 p. m. from Ralph T. Valentine, operator of the concession.

Officers To Visit Garrett K. Of P.

OAKLAND—The official visitation of Grand Chancellor Louis M. Barnes of Gaithersburg, to Garrett Lodge No. 113 Knights of Pythias here will be made Friday evening.

Julius E. Schindler and Odith M. Brotemarkle, past Grand Chancellors of the Maryland Grand Lodge K of P, and J. Walter McKee, Grand Prelate of the grand lodge, all of Cumberland, will accompany Barnes on his official visit and will speak at the affair.

Mahoney-Foley

(Continued from page 20) designed to promote new industry and create jobs in areas of heavy unemployment was enacted. He said his opponent, Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler, was among the 63 per cent of the GOP senators voting against the measure.

"Against" Labor

Mahoney also told his audience that Republican Senator Butler has failed to vote for legislation which would benefit the majority. He has voted against labor every time but once, Mahoney said, and opposed measures which would have been beneficial to the average family. On the contrary, he has favored bills of interest to the oilmen and corporations, Mahoney declared.

He declared, "after Butler's attack last night, I am taking off my gloves and going after him". He promised a major speech "on Butler" in Washington county tonight.

Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the County Democratic Committee, was master of ceremonies. Other speakers included James Dundon, who gave a talk on party organization, workers' activity and the part of organized labor in the campaign.

Edward J. Ryan, who introduced Foley, reviewed the "miserable" record of present GOP office holders and declared "We could have enjoyed better representation if fellows like Hyde and Butler had just stayed at home."

W. Earle Cobey introduced Mahoney and Julius E. Schindler made preliminary remarks about the Dollars for Democrats campaign, of which he is county chairman.

Jaycee Board To Meet

Officials Seek Pouch Of Mail

The annual musical program will be held at the Pinto Mennonite Church on Sunday with Rev. Richard Martin, of Elida, Ohio, as moderator at the three sessions.

There will be special music at the 9:30 a. m. worship service by the Mennonite Hour Quartet of Harrisonburg, Va. This will be followed by the Sunday school hour at 10:30 a. m.

The afternoon session at 2:30 p. m. will feature the quartet, a ladies' trio from Springs, Pa., the Pinto Mixed Chorus and the Longenecker family. The closing service at 7:30 p. m. will be a hymn sing in charge of Rev. Martin as well as musical selections by various groups.

It was reported the bag contained a substantial number of state relief checks, railroad retirement checks, disability checks, Department of Public Assistance checks and other mail.

Sadler said the pouch may have been tossed out of a train on the way from Pittsburgh or from a truck at the wrong stop.

Food Dealers Dinner Arranged For Tonight

Two more representatives of area industries have accepted invitations to attend the annual dinner meeting of the Independent Retail Food Dealers Association of Western Maryland at 7 o'clock this evening at St. Mary's recreation hall.

They are J. L. Bell, secretary-treasurer of the Stanley Coal Company of Cresson and Dean D. Welder, production department superintendent of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

J. Goodloe Jackson, toastmaster for the dinner, said that about 700 persons will attend, including some 100 representatives of area industries.

Meet Postponed

The special meeting of Western Maryland Lodge of B'nai B'rith which was scheduled for today has been cancelled because of the sudden illness of Mordechai Shalev of the Israel Embassy in Washington, D. C. He was scheduled to be guest speaker.

Mineral Co. Grand Jury Finishes Duty

Four Indictments Returned Quickly

KEYSER — Four indictments were returned yesterday by the Mineral County Circuit Court grand jury which took less than two hours to fulfill its duties.

Judge Ernest A. See said that he believed this was the shortest period any grand jury in his memory had met to probe county crime.

Leon Dadds, William Dawson, Robert Wages and Douglas Lambert were indicted on a charge of stealing $50 from Guy R. Coffman, operator of a service station on New Creek Road. The offense occurred several weeks ago, according to police.

Another indictment charged Richard Wolf with theft of $50 from Kenneth A. Grinnan.

A mother of five minor children, whose name was not divulged, was indicted on a charge of deserting her children and wilfully neglecting them.

Hershel Weaver Jr. was indicted on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl. He is accused of having taken the girl in his automobile without consent of her parents and keeping her with him in his car through the entire night, during which it is alleged he had carnal knowledge of her.

The case concerning the 1955 and 1956 West Virginia taxes against the Western Maryland Railway Company will be tried starting November 12.

Richard Carskaen, of Cabin Run District, was sworn in as foreman of the grand jury. Other jurors were:

Wayne Dryton, Homer Alt and Fred Price, Frankfort District; C. B. Holt, Walter G. Kephart, Harold Harrison, Ray Cook, Howard W. Arnold, Stanley Dantzig and Willard Gortner, New Creek District.

Joseph Chapman, Piedmont District; Samuel Ward and A. E. Jenkins, Elk District; Andrew Rexrode Sr., Welton District and George Spence, Cabin Run District.

GOP Meeting Set Tonight

Council Alters Street Plan In Frostburg

FROSTBURG — The Mayor and Council Monday night decided to change Center and Bowery Streets back to their original status of two-way thoroughfares. It was noted that the changing of these two streets was an experiment and, as there have been a number of objections made by citizens and businessmen since they have been restricted to one-way traffic, it was decided that on October 22 they will return to the original setup as two-way streets.

Edward Ryan, city attorney, reported that he is proceeding with the matter of the friendly suit in court to decide upon the legality of the city selling bonds to finance a building for the use of private industry.

A bid was accepted and contract let for the removal of the corrugated iron fence surrounding the ballfield on South Water Street. A letter, addressed to Mayor Joseph James from General Milton A. Record, was read in which he stated that if a suitable lease were drawn up by the Frostburg city attorney he would be happy to take the matter up with the proper authorities and do all in his power to have the entire ball park area filled and graded to enhance the surrounding of the new Maryland National Guard armory located in that section.

Games were played and refreshments served. The color scheme was in pink and yellow.

Party guests to celebrate Sharon Muir's birthday were Judy Lashbaugh, Carol McKenzie, Harold Lashbaugh, Vickie Shockley, David Haines, Linda Shockley, Carol Cutler, Stephen Shockley, David Duckworth, Wayne Shockley, Vickie Duckworth, Janice Matthews, Howard Hutcheson, Kay Munson.

Rickey Walbert, Mary Munson, Debbie Slider, Mrs. Edison Matthews, Mrs. John Duckworth, Mrs. Simeon Hutcheson, Mr. and Mrs. John Watkinson, Mrs. Elizabeth Dohm and Miss Emma Jean Muir of Moscow, attended the celebration.

The nominating committee reported the following nominations for officers: Mrs. Leonard Broadwater, president; Mrs. Jennings Brode, vice president; and Mrs. June Rank, secretary.

Committee chairmen attended a meeting in Cumberland at St. Mark's Church Saturday.

One new member, Mrs. Virginia Poland, was welcomed into the group.

Hostesses for the evening were Mollie Dudley, Eva Keller, Genevieve Broadwater, and Anne Bockas.

Stanford Star Completes 61 Of 102 Passes

John Brodie Gains Total 748 Yards

[By The Associated Press] Stanford's John Brodie, who avoids spring football practice to play golf, has more than made up for this truancy by his passing in the first four games this fall.

Brodie passed his way into the individual total offense lead in major college football last week, topping Arizona sophomore Ralph Hunsaker.

Brodie also has run more plays than any other player, thrown more passes, accounted for more than half his team's yardage and averaged more than 15 pass completions a game — a pace that should give him a record if he continues.

Here's what the Stanford senior star has done so far according to NCAA service bureau statistics:

Out of 120 plays, he has passed 102 times and completed 61 for 734 yards and seven touchdowns. His running accounted for 14 more yards and a total of 748. No one else has thrown more than five scoring passes this season. As a team Stanford has gained 1,397 yards in four games.

Hunsaker, the No. 2 passer with 46 completions for 565 yards, slid back into second place in total offense with a 677-yard total. He has run or thrown on 119 plays in five games.

Another one-man team is Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, whose 555 yards by rushing and passing has accounted for 55.3 per cent of his team's 1,004 yards. Including 230 yards on kickoff runbacks, Hornung has advanced the ball 261.7 yards a game.

Jimmy Brown of Syracuse, who ran 165 yards against West Virginia last Saturday, has the best per-game average in rushing—123.7 yards.

Michigan State Next Foe Of Notre Dame

By JERRY LISKA

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 16 (UPI)—Coach Terry Brennan, a twice-beaten Notre Dame football team, meets Michigan State Saturday and Oklahoma the following week conceded today the Irish outlook is "a little bit dark."

Brennan, who will send Notre Dame's "greenest" team in history against Michigan State's Spartans, No. 2 behind Oklahoma in the AP poll, is faced by what he described as a whopping defensive problem.

"We have averaged five yards on every offensive play in three games to date," said Brennan, whose sophomore-studded club conceivable could be headed for a season more disastrous than the worst Irish year, a 3-5 mark in 1933.

"Obviously, our shortcoming has been failing to stop our opponents," he continued. Notre Dame lost its Sept. 22 opener to Southern Methodist 19-13; defeated Indiana 20-6; and then bowed to Purdue 28-14.

The Irish played as many as seven sophomores at one time against Purdue, which rolled up 27 first downs and didn't have to punt once, while amassing 370 yards rushing against 129 for Notre Dame.

Brennan however, refused to get downright pessimistic about Michigan State which has whipped the Irish four times in the last five meetings.

"Our scouts say Michigan State has a very fine football team," said Terry. "We anticipate they'll throw a great deal against us Saturday."

Brennan declined to compare the merits of Michigan State and Oklahoma whose Oct. 28 meeting with the Irish here will be televised nationally.

"We'll try to give it everything we've got, whether it's Michigan State or Oklahoma, or any other opponent," said Brennan. "We'll take them one at a time."

expect a soft touch from Cincinnati this week.

The Bearcats, who have lost three of their first four games, come here Saturday for a game scheduled in 1951, when they were causing a lot of fuss as a small college team.

The game had been regarded by many Navy followers as a breatheder for the Middies, but scout Frank Foster said today they can't afford to let down.

Fractured Leg Worse After Striking Stall

Little Hope Held For Colt Valued At Million Dollars

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 16 (UPI)—A team of leading veterinarians is working feverishly here tonight in an effort to save the life of the great thoroughbred, Swaps. A reliable source reported not much hope is held for the horse, valued in excess of $1 million dollars.

Swaps, owned by Rex C. Ellsworth and John W. Galbreath, has seriously aggravated the slight fracture he suffered during a workout here at Garden State Park Oct. 9. The 4-year-old colt struck the injured leg against the side of his stall while trying to get to his feet Sunday afternoon.

Working in the stall at Garden State as the horse's trainer, Michael Tenney, looked on, are E. Jenney, a bone specialist from the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. R. Racker, also of the university; Dr. Richard Coneley, representing an insurance company, and Dr. George E. Palmer Jr., who has been treating the colt.

Dr. Jenney placed a special type of cast on the injured left hind leg of the record-breaking horse. It is hoped that this cast along with a sling which has the horse suspended several inches from the ground will keep the leg immobile long enough for the fracture to heal.

May Destroy Colt

However, a reliable source said the horse didn't have much of a chance. The source doubted that any decision on destroying the thoroughbred would be made tonight. This was prefaced on the belief that the insurance doctor on hand would have to consult with his company before consenting to destruction.

Swaps is suffering from complications of the fracture which might necessitate amputation of the leg. In that event the horse would be put to death. The job of the veterinarians is to try to save the leg.

Ban Press, Photos

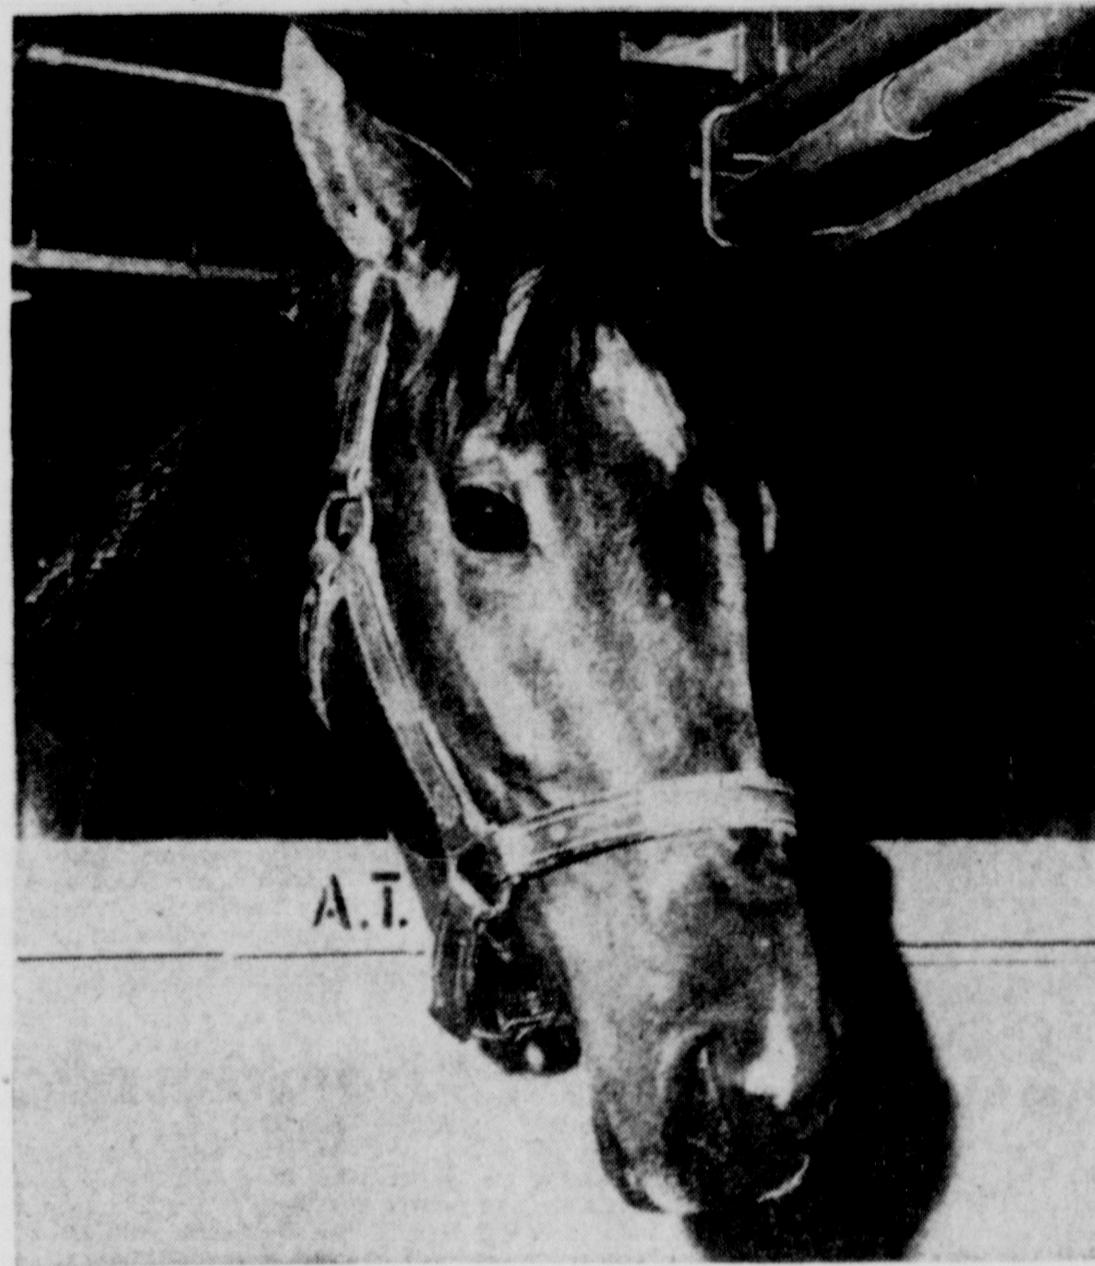

A track spokesman said that no reporters, photographers or other outsiders are permitted near the stall and that any information as to Swaps' condition would have to come from him. The veterinarians also were unavailable for comment.

Dr. Jenney made a plastic mold of Swaps' foot. Incorporated in this mold is a shoe with extended bars on each side. Attached to the bars are metal rods which extend on either side of the horse's leg and which are incorporated in a plaster cast.

This device, a Garden State spokesman said, makes it impossible for Swaps to move any part of his leg from the hock down. The fracture is on the outer side of the cannon bone and extends down into the fetlock where the cannon bone joins the pastern.

Swaps is the holder of five racing marks and in 1955 won the Kentucky Derby by beating the favored Nashua. Swaps has won 19 of 26 races and earned $48,900 in purses over a three year racing career. Only recently, Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, bought a half interest in the horse.

Nashua came back from his Derby defeat to even the score with Swaps in a special match race at Washington Park. The two never met again despite efforts by officials at various tracks around the country.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION — Swaps, great California-bred holder of five racing records, is reported in serious condition at Garden State Park track, Camden, N. J., with a complication of a fractured left rear leg. Not much hope was held for saving the life of the 4-year-old colt, valued at more than a million dollars. Eddie Stanky Shocked After Given Release

Let Out By Millers, Yanks Sell Bob Cerv

[By The Associated Press]

Eddie Stanky, out as manager of the Minneapolis Millers, won't have a spot waiting for him with the New York Giants — unless Giant brass has a change of heart.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, quickly scuttled reports yesterday that the fiery ex-Giant infielder would join Manager Bill Rigney as a coaching aide.

"There's nothing to such talk," Stoneham said.

The Dallas News announced that John (Red) Davis, manager of Dallas in the Texas League, would supplant Stanky as Minneapolis manager next year. The Giant front office, which owns Minneapolis' team and has a working agreement with Dallas, didn't deny it.

Dallas of the Texas League announced it had granted John (Red) Davis his release so that he could succeed Stanky as Minneapolis manager next season.

The club said Davis, who had managed Dallas for two years, was offered the Minneapolis job by Carl Hubbell, director of the Giant's farm system. The Giants own Minneapolis and have a working agreement with Dallas.

"This comes as a complete shock to me," Stanky said at his Fairhope, Ala., home. "I thought I did a fairly good job with the material I had, especially after the way the Giants shuttled the players back and forth."

"I was led to believe that at the end of the season I was to become a coach of the Giants," the one-time Cardinal manager added.

Panthers Revamp Backs For Duke

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Coach Johnny Michelosen said today the Pitt backfield will be revamped completely for Saturday's football game with Duke at North Folk, Va.

Michelosen named Corny Salvaterra to start at quarterback instead of Darrell Lewis. Corky Cost will replace the injured Dick Bowles at left half, Jim Theodore takes over at right half from Ray Dipasqual and Ralph Jelis will be at fullback instead of Tom Jenkins.

The shakeup resulted from Pitt's 21-0 loss to California on the West Coast over a week ago.

Michelosen said he would like to replace some of his linemen but added he didn't have anyone to put in their positions.

ball in some capacity. I have had many offers and I am trying to make a major league connection."

Meanwhile, there was a lot of post-season baseball action in the major leagues as clubs brought up talent from farm clubs and shuffled some old hands.

The Baltimore Orioles gave manager Paul Richards a new two-year contract and announced plans to provide him with an assistant. Richards has been serving as both general and field manager.

Yankees Sell Cerv

The champion New York Yankees sold outfielder Bob Cerv to Kansas City and released outfielder George Wilson and pitcher John Dixon to Denver.

The Kansas City Athletics, besides acquiring Cerv, also bought relief pitcher Ben Flowers from the Philadelphia Phillies for a sum reported "in excess of the waiver $10,000 price."

Brown Says Team With Four Losses Might Cop Title

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16 (UPI)—Coach Paul Brown, whose championship football team has dropped two out of three starts this season, says that a team with four losses might win the Eastern Division title this year.

"I believe a record of eight victories and four defeats will do it," said the coach of the Cleveland Browns, winners last year of the National Football League crown.

Michelosen said he would like to

Yellow Jaundice Strikes Terps, Entire Grid Squad Inoculated

Gamma Globulin Is Given; LaNeve And Dare Are Stricken

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 16 (UPI)—The entire University of Maryland football squad, plus coaches and managers, were given gamma globulin shots today as a precaution against the spread of yellow jaundice.

Two players already have been stricken with the ailment.

Two Have Ailment

Doctors at University Hospital in Baltimore began considering the wholesale injections of the blood derivative earlier today after Ronald LaNeve, a sophomore second string center from Pittsburgh, was sent there with the ailment. Howie Dare, second string halfback from Baltimore, previously had contracted it.

Dr. Thurston R. Adams, team physician, was waiting for the players with a supply of needles when they came off the practice field following a rough hour and a half scrimmage.

Yellow jaundice, technically known as infectious hepatitis, disables the liver and saps the energy. It can be fatal. It gets its common name from the yellowish tint which shows up in the eyes and flesh as a symptom.

The virus which attacks the liver may enter the bloodstream directly or be picked up orally from food or drink.

The yellow jaundice epidemic threat is the most serious in a succession of player losses on the Maryland squad this season.

Injuries Plague Team

Tommy Mont, in his first year as head coach, reported today that end Ed Cooke and fullback Tom Selep will not be able to play Saturday against North Carolina. Cooke dislocated his shoulder and Selep hurt his left leg in last Friday night's game at Miami.

In addition, end Al Beardley is in the infirmary with an infected leg.

Another back, Bob Rusevlyan who has been filling in at both half and quarter, has missed practice

Mineral Co. Grand Jury Finishes Duty

Four Indictments Returned Quickly

KEYSER — Four indictments were returned yesterday by the Mineral County Circuit Court grand jury which took less than two hours to fulfill its duties.

Judge Ernest A. See said that he believed this was the shortest period any grand jury in his memory had met to probe county crime.

Leon Dodds, William Dawson, Robert Wages and Douglas Lambert were indicted on a charge of stealing $50 from Guy R. Coffman, operator of a service station on New Creek Road. The offense occurred several weeks ago, according to police.

Another indictment charged Richard Wolf with theft of $50 from Kenneth A. Grinnan.

A mother of five minor children, whose name was not divulged, was indicted on a charge of deserting her children and willfully neglecting them.

Hershel Weaver Jr. was indicted on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl. He is accused of having taken the girl in his automobile without consent of her parents and keeping her with him in his car through the entire night, during which it is alleged he had carnal knowledge of her.

The case concerning the 1955 and 1956 West Virginia taxes against the Western Maryland Railway Company will be tried starting November 12.

Richard Carskaorn of Cabin Run District, was sworn in as foreman of the grand jury. Other jurors were:

Wayne Dryton, Homer Alt and Fred Price, Frankfort District; C. B. Hott, Walter G. Kephart, Harold Harrison, Ray Cook, Howard W. Arnold, Stanley Dantzi and Willard Gortner, New Creek District.

Joseph Chapman, Piedmont District; Samuel Ward and A. E. Jurkins, Elk District; Andrew Rexrode Sr., Weldon District and George Spence, Cabin Run District.

Makeup Demonstration Planned At Fort Hill

FROSTBURG — Little Theatre members will cooperate with Kappa XI cast of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic honor fraternity, in staging a theatrical makeup demonstration as a part of the national thespian regional conference to be held October 26 and 27 at Fort Hill High School in Cumberland.

Mary Elizabeth Wheeler will be featured in the dramatic reading with which she won acclaim last spring in the Fairchild College annual variety night program.

Alpha Psi Omega President Mary Catherine Maher will narrate the makeup demonstrations which will include: Carol Chaney, in a scene from "Our Town;" Thomas Richards and William Price from "Mr. Barry's Etchings;" Mary Elizabeth Wheeler from "Jane Eyre;" Katherine Hodges from "Eastward In Eden;" Arthur Hugglestone from "Death Takes a Holiday;" and Dolores Fahey from "Anastasia."

Conducting the demonstrations will be Ruth Schade and June Mowbray of Alpha Psi Omega and Carol Kelley of Little Theater.

The committee, at its first meeting a recent evening, announced that it hopes that citizens of Keyser will give aid in making recommendations of some man or woman for the honor.

The request further asks that persons submitting names of nominees will indicate their reason for considering the nomination.

Contents of letters and the identity of writers will not be divulged by the committee. Letters of nominations will be accepted up to and including November 1. Mail recommendations to "Citizens of the Year Committee," P O Box 632, Keyser.

Women's Guild Nominates

FROSTBURG — The Women's Guild of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church met recently with Mrs. Benjamin H. Lewis presiding. The topic for the evening was "What Does Your Church Mean To You" led by Mrs. Lewis, with group discussions.

The nominating committee reported the following nominations for officers: Mrs. Leonard Broadwater, president; Mrs. Jennings Brode, vice president; and Mrs. June Rank, secretary.

Committee chairmen attended a meeting in Cumberland at St. Mark's Church Saturday.

One new member, Mrs. Virginia Poland, was welcomed into the group.

Hostesses for the evening were Mollie Dudley, Eva Keller, Genevieve Broadwater, and Anne Buckas.

Veterinarians Work Feverishly To Save Life Of Swaps

Terry Brennan Concedes Irish Outlook Bit Dark

Stanford Star Completes 61 Of 102 Passes

John Brodie Gains Total 748 Yards

[By The Associated Press]
Stanford's John Brodie, who avoids spring football practice to play golf, has more than made up for this truancy by his passing in the first four games this fall.

Brodie passed his way into the individual total offense lead in major college football last week, topping Arizona sophomore Ralph Hunsaker.

Brodie also has run more plays than any other player, thrown more passes, accounted for more than half his team's yardage and averaged more than 15 pass completions a game — a pace that should give him a record if he continues.

Here's what the Stanford senior star has done so far according to NCAA service bureau statistics:

Out of 120 plays, he has passed 102 times and completed 61 for 734 yards and seven touchdowns. His running accounted for 14 more yards and a total of 748. No one else has thrown more than five scoring passes this season. As a team Stanford has gained 1,397 yards in four games.

Hunsaker, the No. 2 passer with 48 completions for 565 yards, slid back into second place in total offense with a 677-yard total. He has run or thrown on 119 plays in five games.

Another one-man team is Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, whose 555 yards by rushing and passing has accounted for 55.3 per cent of his team's 1,004 yards. Including 230 yards on kickoff runbacks, Hornung has advanced the ball 261.7 yards.

Jimmy Brown of Syracuse, who ran 165 yards against West Virginia last Saturday, has the best per-game average in rushing—123.7 yards.

"There's nothing to such talk," Stoneham said.

The Dallas News announced that John (Red) Davis, manager of Dallas in the Texas League, would supplant Stanky as Minneapolis manager next year. The Giant front office, which owns Minneapolis' team and has a working agreement with Dallas, didn't deny it.

Dallas of the Texas League announced it had granted John (Red) Davis his release so that he could succeed Stanky as Minneapolis manager next season.

The club said Davis, who had managed Dallas for two years, was offered the Minneapolis job by Carl Hubbard, director of the Giant's farm system. The Giants own Minneapolis and have a working agreement with Dallas.

"This comes as a complete shock to me," Stanky said at his Fairhope, Ala., home. "I thought I did a fairly good job with the material I had, especially after the way the Giants shuttled the players back and forth."

"I was led to believe that at the end of the season I was to become a coach of the Giants," the one-time Cardinal manager added.

"I have no plans for the 1957 season as yet but I will be in base-

Panthers Revamp Backs For Duke

[By The Associated Press]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16 (AP)—Coach Johnny Michelosen said today the Pitt backfield will be revamped completely for Saturday's football game with Duke at North Folk, Va.

Michelsen named Corny Salvaterra to start at quarterback instead of Darrell Lewis. Corky Cost will replace the injured Dick Bowker at left half, Jim Theodore takes over at right half from Ray Dipasqual and Ralph Jelic will be at fullback instead of Tom Jenkins.

The shakeup resulted from Pitt's 21-0 loss to California on the West Coast over a week ago.

Michelsen said he would like to replace some of his linemen too, but added he didn't have anyone to put in their positions.

Brown Says Team With Four Losses Might Cop Title

[By The Associated Press]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16 (AP)—Coach Paul Brown, whose championship football team has dropped two out of three starts this season, says that a team with four losses might win the Eastern Division title this year.

"I believe a record of eight victories and four defeats will do it," said the coach of the Cleveland Browns, winners last year of the National Football League crown.

"This division probably is better balanced than it's ever been."

Cleveland Acquires Three PCL Players

[By The Associated Press]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16 (INS)—The Cleveland Indians announced today that they have acquired pitchers John Gray and Dick Mesa and outfielder Bob Usher from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League in exchange for infielder Stan Pawloski, catcher Allen Jones and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Gray, a fireballing right-hander, won 10 and lost seven at Indianapolis last season. He pitched for the Philadelphia A's in 1954.

Mesa, also a right-hander, won 13 and lost 11 last season at San Diego. He is a product of the Indian's farm system.

Usher, a right-handed slugger, hit .350, had 12 homers and drove in 73 RBI's at San Diego.

Yellow Jaundice Strikes Terps, Entire Grid Squad Inoculated

Gamma Globulin Is Given; LaNeve And Dare Are Stricken

[By The Associated Press]

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 16 (AP)—The entire University of Maryland football squad, plus coaches and managers, were given gamma globulin shots today as a precaution against the spread of yellow jaundice.

Two players already have been stricken with the ailment.

Two Have Ailment

Doctors at University Hospital in Baltimore began considering the wholesale injections of the blood derivative earlier today after Ronald Laneve, a sophomore second string center from Pittsburgh, was sent there with the ailment. Howie Dare, second string halfback from Baltimore, previously had contracted it.

Dr. Thurston R. Adams, team physician, was waiting for the players with a supply of needles when they came off the practice field following a rough hour and a half scrimmage.

Yellow jaundice, technically known as infectious hepatitis, disables the liver and saps the energy. It can be fatal. It gets its common name from the yellowish tint which shows up in the eyes and flesh as a symptom.

The virus which attacks the liver may enter the bloodstream directly or be picked up orally from food or drink.

The yellow jaundice epidemic threat is the most serious in a succession of player losses on the Maryland squad this season.

Injuries Plague Team

Tommy Mont, in his first year as head coach, reported today that end Ed Cooke and fullback Tom Selep will not be able to play Saturday against North Carolina. Cooke dislocated his shoulder and Selep hurt his left leg in last Friday night's game at Miami.

In addition, end Al Beardley is in the infirmary with an infected leg.

Another back, Bob Rusevlyan who has been filling in at both half and quarter, has missed practice this week with the virus.

Junie Perry's .472 Wins Pen-Mar Batting Championship

Grantsville Player Belted 12 Homers, Swiped 14 Bases

Jack Brodie Topped Hurlers With 9-1, Fanned 99 Batters

William "Junie" Perry, outfielder-pitcher of the Grantsville Sluggers, is the 1956 batting champion of the Pen-Mar Baseball League.

Runner-up in 1955 with an average of .400, Perry took the crown this year with a .472 mark, collecting 42 hits in 89 official trips to the plate.

Belted 12 Home Runs

Perry also won two other awards by blasting 12 home runs and paced the base stealers of the circuit with a total of 14 pilfered hossacks.

Mel Nee of Centerville was runner-up in the batting race with an average of .416 while Johnny Horwath of Wellersburg finished third with .385. Kenny Lough, Flintstone, was fourth with .378 and was followed by Tom Dunn, Zihlman, 1951 batting champion with .374.

Jack Brodie Repeats

Jack Brodie, Zihlman southpaw, was the league's winningest pitcher for the second straight season, posting nine victories against one loss. In 1955 he headed the hurlers of the circuit with eight triumphs and one setback. He also earned another season award, that of strikeout king of the league. The Zihlman postscript whiffed 99 batters, six more than Glenn Deremer of Centerville.

Other award winners were Edgar Parsons, of Barrelvile, who banged six triples to lead in that department, and Homer Rose, Centerville, with eleven two-baggers to his credit.

Three Post 5-0 Marks

Three hurlers, namely, Donnie Wilkinson, Grantsville; Jim McGregor and Bob Lookabaugh, of the Barrelvile pennant and play-off winners, posted 5-0 records.

PACES PEN-MAR HITTERS — William "Junie" Perry, who hails from Piedmont, captured the batting championship of the Pen-Mar Baseball League for 1956 with an average of .472, the third highest average in the eight-year history of the sandlot circuit. The outfielder-hurler of the Grantsville Sluggers garnered 42 hits in 89 trips, led the league in stolen bases with 14 and was the home run king with 12 round-trippers to his credit. Perry was runner-up in batting last year with a .400 average.

Harridge, 71, Not Thinking Of Retiring

Term Ends In 1957,
Wants To Continue

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Will Harridge observed his 71st birthday anniversary in robust health today and looked forward to continuing service as president of the American League.

He virtually was shanghaied into baseball by the late B. A. Johnson, American League president, in 1911. Johnson took a liking to young Harridge's ability in routing clubs while working as clerk and stenographer in the Chicago passenger administration department of the Wabash Railroad.

Hired By Johnson

Johnson hired him, and Harridge has been with the league ever since, the last quarter of a century as president.

"It may come as somewhat of a surprise to club owners to know that I have a contract as league president," Harridge said. "But I have, and it expires in December, 1957. As long as my health stays good I want to carry on until at least the contract is up."

"At that time, if my health remains good and if the club owners are generous enough to offer me another contract, I certainly would think about accepting it."

There was a rumor during the recent World Series that Harridge was thinking of retiring and Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox was the frontrunner as his successor. The report was spiced, however, and Harridge's feelings on the matter today indicated that he wasn't giving thought to stepping down.

Sees Majors On Coast

Harridge said that he would not be surprised if there is major league baseball on the Pacific Coast "within 10 years at the most."

"It will be a big move and it will take time to make it," he added. "When it comes, there possibly will be 10-team leagues. There will be a need for two American League clubs on the coast in order to cut down the big expense of traveling."

Since he has been president, Harridge believes the greatest single innovation in the game was night baseball introduced in 1939.

"It gave the whole family a chance to enjoy baseball and it boosted attendance from 3 million to 10 to 11 million annually."

Wegert Is Injured, Eagles Sign Riley

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles announced today the signing of Lee Riley, former Detroit Lions halfback, to replace halfback Ted Wegert who will be lost to the club for a month due to a foot injury.

Wegert suffered a fractured toe on his right foot in last Sunday's game with the Pittsburgh Steelers. This is the second straight year Wegert has been sidelined by a foot injury. In the 1955 opener against New York, the hard running back broke a bone in his right foot and was out for four games.

When Winston Churchill was 23 years old in 1897 he wrote "Savrola" the story of dictators in a mythical kingdom-his only fiction work. Now NBC has bought the rights and in Matinee Theatre's first anniversary show, October 31, it will be presented.

Monday night Albert McCleery, producer of Matinee Theatre, and Russell Birdsell flew out to join Sarah Churchill in London for "Pal Joey" and that the Jean Louis clothes for her in this role are extra special.

At the star-studded premiere of "Giant" tomorrow night (Wednesday) Anne Baxter will be on the arm of Cesar Romero. The Clark Gables will make one of their first appearances since Kay's illness. Kim Novak and her steady, Mac Krim and other top names are expected.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Street Improvement Ordinance Passes

The Mayor and Council on Monday passed an ordinance calling for the improvement of Massachusetts Avenue.

Work will include the construction of sidewalks, curbs and gutters for a distance of about 600 feet.

City officials ordered that 200 copies of the annual audit be printed.

Water consumption last week averaged 11,368,000 gallons daily, down slightly from last year's 11,762,000. Lake Gordon was eight inches below the spillway, Council was told, and Lake Koontz half an inch above.

Parking meter receipts for the week ending October 7 totaled $677.45, down $16.85 from the week before.

The payment of $50 was authorized to Isaac L. Van Orsdel for damage to a fireplace during the construction of the North Branch water line.

Woman Is Improved

Mrs. Marie Rice, 637 Maryland Avenue, is reported "improved" at Memorial Hospital where she was admitted Monday after falling from a second story porch at her home.

The charming woman has many interests—and music is often one of them today.

Secrets Of Charm

To enthuse over something new is worthwhile, and a sense of achievement is poise-building; then if you play well, you're more popular. But there's also the value of music as a refresher. Since reading and playing music demands absolute concentration, it's a wonderful release from the complications of busy days. There can't be anything else on your mind — you unwind.

When you acquire enough skill, you can play with others. This may mean a whole new group of acquaintances and friends, and it may mean something new to do as a family. It's the recorder and stringed instruments which grow fastest in popularity, and the kind of music that can be played at home.

Tomorrow—Set to music.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (INS) — Recent piece here on the names of hurricanes brings a letter from a lady who lives in Belton, S. C., and who just about never misses.

"I don't know if it's an honor or a disgrace to have a hurricane named for you," she writes. "Two of the worst here were Hazel and Irene. My name is Hazel Irene Cushman."

"Last night, with Hurricane Flossy threatening to blow off our roof, my husband came home from work and stumbled over the pots and pans I had placed under the leaks. He looked around and said, 'Well, Flossy, you really got things going right this time, haven't you?'

"You see, while Hazel Irene has been my name, or names, officially, I've been known as Flossy since I was a little girl."

The Weather Bureau should give up and name the next one Cushman.

Like Mickey Mantle's home runs, movies are now being graded by their length. We went to see "Giant" the other night. It's about Texas, but much bigger.

My friend Henry Ginsberg is said to have snipped enough out of it to make a picture called "Midget," all about a family of rich hog-callers living in Rhode Island. This will be released only to those new 7-inch TV sets.

A nice tame Texas million-heirress went with us to see the picture and after three hours whispered, "Edna Ferber spent only two weeks down home getting material for her novel."

A saddle-sore man sitting nearby wheezed, "Thank gosh she didn't stay a month."

Yep, it's a long'un, real purty. It will cement Jimmy Dean's status as a bona fide legendary American folk hero, like Wallace Reid, Jack Gilbert and John Barrymore.

Texans may wince at the news, but the state's oil wasn't good enough for Hollywood. In the been designed especially to protect Hollywood brought into dentations under furniture loads. Marfa, Tex., pop. 3,500, were more than 100 tapered teeth on typical rich Texas rancher's home—the indigenous ones aside the pile of the carpet with weren't typical enough—and a forest of oil wells. Special effects man Ralph Webb is certain to get an Academy Award nomination for the gushers he brought in. It was ersatz stuff, there being no oil around Marfa, but it

Council Defeats Wage-Salary Study Proposal

A proposal for a study of the overall wage-salary picture of city employees was defeated 3-2 Monday by the Mayor and Council which then approved a salary increase for a draftsman in the Engineering Department.

The salary increase was voted Charles R. Scarlett from $385 to $416.66 a month after it was pointed out the city stood to lose his services to a higher-paying job and that qualifications for draftsmen had to be dropped from three to two years' experience because the city could not get applicants for the job under original requirements. The pay hike was effective yesterday.

The motion for an overall study of city employees' salaries was defeated by a 3-2 vote when Mayor Roy W. Eves and Commissioners William J. Edwards and William V. Keegan voted against it, with Commissioners John J. Long and William H. Buchholz voting for the study.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
2 spades	Pass	3 diamonds	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Five of clubs.

The rare phenomenon of two tricks shrinking into one is witnessed in today's hand.

The final contract of four spades was sound enough, tho some partnerships would have reached three no trump, preferring a direct response of two no trump to an approach bid of two diamonds with the North hand. South, with a 5-3-3 distribution, would naturally proceed to three no trump.

West opened the five of clubs, and East cashed two tricks in that suit. At this point he became remorseful over his failure to double, for with the ten of spades in dummy it seemed physically impossible to prevent his winning two trump tricks. It all seemed like a mirage to East when declarer so skillfully managed his cards as to hold the defense to only one trick in spades.

At trick three East gave up the lead with the deuce of clubs. Declarer then led to the king of spades and received the jarring news that East had what appeared in print to be two sure trump tricks. With a little reflection, declarer reached the conclusion that his cause was not hopeless and that the hand could be won if East had to follow to four rounds of diamonds, a remote holding to be sure. He, therefore, ran the diamond suit, overtaking the queen, and was gratified to learn that East had four diamonds. Declarer discarded two of his hearts and then cashed the ace of that suit. When a low heart was led from dummy East was down to nothing but spades and ruffed in with the seven. Had declarer overtaken with the jack he would have had to give away two more tricks. But he refused the trick, underruffing with the four of spades. In this position, East holding Q 9 8 of spades was burdened with the lead and could not prevent declarer from taking the balance, because the forced lead of the eight permitted dummy to win with the ten.

Television And Radio

Fight Game

The second of CBS-TV's "Playhouse 90" was called "Requiem for a Heavyweight" and it had the distinction of being the first hour and a half drama written especially for television. It also had the distinction of packing an awful wallop and setting a pace for costing, direction, setting and production that I can only hope will be a regular thing.

"Requiem for a Heavyweight," by Rod Serling takes a hard cold look at the fight game and a grim, grim business it makes of it, too. There seems to be a small ground swell in this direction, the movies having belted the pugilistic dodge around considerably in "The Harder They Fall" with Humphrey Bogart. After "Requiem" I can't imagine any young man embracing the career of fighter with great enthusiasm. Or at all.

But then, if the play is at all accurate, fighters are hardly the sort of people who look at this sort of drama or do anything much more intellectual than hang, slack-jawed, around saloons and talk about their old fights. Hero of this gay little romp is Mountain (powerfully and poignantly played by Jack Palance), a Tennessee mountain lad who apparently went straight into the ring from ninth grade and who, at the beginning of the play, is threatened with blindness and is washed up as a fighter.

The play opens like a thunderclap. A winning fighter surrounded by cheering well-wishers and himself exuberant with health and victory comes down a ramp and disappears into a dressingroom. After a long, long moment the loser (Mr. Palance) totters down the ramp supp'd on one side by his manager (Keenan Wynn) and on the other by his trainer (Ed Wynn). He's a battered hulk on the fringes of consciousness.

There follows a scene with an old doctor, (Edgar Stehli) retiring after 38 years of patching up unglued fighters, who talk about the ring in slaughterhouse terminology.

The kid's washed up. Washed up with him is his manager who has been living off him for 14 years and who is up to his eyes in debt, too. (He had bet the kid he wouldn't last three rounds and he lasted seven in his last fight). So then where does he go, and what does he do? Palance was given the role of a man who is just short of being punchy—the stammering speech, the jerky movements and all that—but underneath the faltering speech lies an essential decency and humanity that commands your respect and affection. Both author and actor collaborated here to create a genuinely moving and real person.

Serling contributed a whole gallery of fight characters, most of them pretty unattractive—the fight manager who is not above trying to make a clown of his fighter in the wrestling ring in order to get out of hock, iron-faced gamblers, a punchy fighter (Slapsy Maxie Rosenbloom) who endlessly recounts his old fights, a sleazy wrestling promoter, the trainer who genuinely loves the fighter. They move through a dreary succession of locker rooms, and corridors and fifth rate hotels in which you can also smell the sweat and dirt. The settings by Al Heschong and lighting by Bill E. Grams did much for this story.

However, once he stated his premise, Mr. Serling had to get out of it somehow and here he brought in the love of a good woman (though love is perhaps too strong a word) and he lost me at little bit here. However, the woman was played with great economy and heart by Kim Hunter. (It was a hell of a cast, all the way around) and Mr. Serling went to great lengths to keep the thing plausible and sentimental.

"I don't think I ever had a date before," says Mountain. Well, I had no idea fighters were such anchovies and, as a matter of fact, I don't think many of them are. But it was one last touch to show that the kid had no life at all except fighting and suddenly that was gone.

I like these 90-minute dramas because, for once, the writers have a little time. The characters—at least in this one—seem a little more rounded, the scenes have more body and color. In short, the viewer gets a chance to know and to care about the people much more and I rather think we will remember them much longer than the characters of most TV dramas whose outlines seem pretty dim five minutes after the play is over.

Incidentally, this was Ed Wynn's first straight dramatic role in 34 years of show business and he was great. I hope he does some more.

Mahoney, Foley Attack Record Of Republicans

Say GOP Doesn't Represent People

John R. Foley, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth Maryland District, and George P. Mahoney, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, charged last night at a rally of party workers and leaders in the Eagles Building here that their Republican opponents have failed to represent the electorate of Maryland.

Foley, who has been campaigning diligently in every community of his district, told his audience of over 200 people that "this is the largest and most spirited rally I've addressed during this campaign."

In his bid for support in this strong Republican county, Foley said his GOP opponent DeWitt S. Hyde has appeared in recent weeks on the transcribed radio program "Facts Forum," and he displayed the official "Facts Forum" release of two recent broadcasts by Hyde.

Attacked School Aid

In one of these, Foley pointed out, Hyde attacked federal aid to public schools, a bill which Foley said he voted to help defeat just as he voted against an extension of unemployment compensation benefits at a time when part of his district had a higher percentage of unemployed people than any place else in the country, said Foley.

Foley charged that these reasons and others which he enumerated are proof that Hyde has not been voting in the best interests of the people of his district.

The Democratic candidate said the organization, Facts Forum, with headquarters in Dallas, Texas, is owned, supported and controlled by Olman H. L. Hunt, of Dallas. Foley said Hunt has been identified as "possibly the richest man in the United States."

Foley quoted from Time Magazine, the Washington Post, the Providence Journal and Bulletin and the Milwaukee Journal to show that Facts Forum is "the most reactionary and bigoted single-interest propaganda organization in the country."

"Mr. Hyde," he declared, "must have known the nature of the organization to which he lent himself for radio broadcasts. The explanation for his cooperation with Facts Forum is that his views dovetail exactly with those of Mr. Hunt and Facts Forum."

"Poorhouse" Remark

"Our Congressman has equated Social Security with the poorhouse. He has voted the way Mr. Hunt and the Texas oil interests would have wanted him to vote on the bill to de-control the price of natural gas. He has examined the United States Constitution and found the "primary purpose" of it is to protect the peoples' control of their purse."

"Now," Foley declared, "Mr. Hyde has spread on the record again his confused views on the problem of educating our children. He has done this in typical Facts Forum fashion, indulging in a grotesque distortion of the issue."

"His answer to the problem of providing adequate classroom space for the children of the 6th Congressional District is that federal funds to build schools would be a 'threat to all our freedoms.'

"This is tommyrot," Foley declared. "This is part and parcel of the Facts Forum policy, which has drawn protests from all parts of the country."

Foley also criticized Hyde's record on small business. He charged that the Eisenhower administration in 1955 gave "a record 68 per cent of all defense contracts to the 100 biggest corporations—over 50 per cent to a list of only 24 corporations."

The Differences

Mahoney said there is no better way to illustrate the differences between his party and the Republican party than their methods of cutting taxes.

In his speech the senatorial candidate said, "I am running on a platform which is dedicated to the principle that government should serve all the people, not just a chosen few."

The Democratic platform recommends an income tax cut for all persons by raising personal exemptions from $600 to $800, he said. In the lowest tax-paying bracket, Mahoney said, this would mean a reduction of $160 a year in taxes.

"That is a far cry from the Republican-style tax cuts which were handed out two years ago," he said. "Ninety-one cents out of every dollar of tax cuts went to corporations and higher-income families. Only nine cents went to families with incomes under $5,000 a year."

Pennsylvanian Gets 2 Years For Shooting

Gabriel Sentenced To Penitentiary

Bennie Willis Gabriel, 32, of Grindstone, Pa., yesterday was sentenced to two years in the Maryland Penitentiary by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris, who found him guilty in Allegany County Circuit Court of assaulting his common-law wife with intent to murder her.

Gabriel was accused of firing a .38-calibre revolver at Daisy Gordon Swig when he stopped the car suddenly while they were traveling through Allegany County yesterday morning although the driver had not been located.

A closer inspection of the vehicle disclosed that a letter signed by John Henry Jarman had been placed on the windshield.

It read to the effect that "this car is yours for the taking" and was referred to the owner of the property. Stanley Finzel and his wife own and operate the inn.

Witnesses said this occurred about noon August 3 as they were traveling from Fort Meade toward Grindstone.

Sergeant Testifies

Ois L. Patrick, an Army sergeant stationed at Fort Meade, was the third and final witness at the court trial yesterday.

He said Gabriel stopped the car, and with the left front door open and with his left foot on the road surface, fired the revolver at the woman, who was sitting beside him. They had been arguing over the manner in which Gabriel had been driving.

The sergeant said he did not at first think that the woman, who is 36 years old, had been struck by the bullet. However, they soon saw blood seep through the back of her dress.

Shot In Shoulder

An investigation showed that she had been shot through the left shoulder. She was brought to Cumberland and was a patient at St. Joseph Heart Hospital for some time after the incident.

Edward J. Ryan and Harold E. Naughton, Gabriel's attorneys, submitted the case after Patrick testified. Judge Harris then found Gabriel guilty of the first count of the indictment. State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher handled the prosecution.

Other witnesses at the trial were the injured woman and another woman who was riding in the car, Quemire Simpson.

In passing sentence, Judge Harris commented that had the defendant could easily have been charged with murder.

106 Voters Apply For Absent Ballots

Today, 20 days before the November 6 general election, is the last day for properly registered Allegany County civilian voters to apply to the County Board of Election Supervisors for absentee ballots if they are going to be outside Maryland on election day.

Up to closing time yesterday, some 106 such voters had applied for absentee ballots.

Service personnel may apply for absentee ballots up to five days before the election. Civilians who are ill and will be away from their election districts on November 6 may apply for absentee ballots up until October 27.

Beall Helps Plan State GOP Events

Sen. J. Glenn Beall is on the planning committee that is making arrangements for Vice President Richard M. Nixon's address in Timonium Friday.

The appearance of Nixon will climax his second nationwide campaign tour, and will be his second speech in Maryland during the past month.

Sen. Beall is also co-chairman of the banquet committee for the Eisenhower Birthday Dinner tomorrow in Baltimore. Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey will be the main speaker at the dinner.

Leslie Mauk Will Probated By Court

Gwyn Fletcher, the new city recreation director, will speak today at the weekly meeting of the Optimist Club at 6:15 p.m. at Central YMCA.

Members of team in the Hot

Stove League sponsored by the Optimist Club will be guests at the dinner meeting.
